USE OF HOMELAND SECURITY FUNDS

The Center for Emergency Research (CER), part of the School of Public Health, educated the frontline public health workforce, medical and emergency responders, key leaders and other professionals to respond to threats such as bioterrorism and other emergencies affecting our communities. The CER addressed areas related to domestic biosecurity threats, including research, education, training, risk communications, border health security, emergency preparedness, and policy development. The CER ceased operations at the end of FY 2012.
