Next, you will need to reformat the document. Click on the Convert To Respondus Format button in the top right corner and the file will be formatted to a format suitable for Respondus.

Under Other Useful Information at the end of the document see:

- Question Formatting for Importing into Respondus 4.0 for details on formatting different question types before importing into Respondus (includes formatting details for multiple answer/select all that apply questions).

For other attachment types e.g. pdfs, you should first import the exam into Canvas as outlined in this document and then adjust the question there. Details on editing the question in Canvas, uploading the file into your course, and linking to the uploaded file can be found in the following Canvas Guide: How do I link course content to a quiz question?

3. You will need to change Points: XXX to reflect the point value for each question (e.g.: Points: 1.67):

Then insert the numbers and letters manually.</li><li>• Crop all of your pictures before inserting them into Word.</li><li>• Be extra careful about spacing in Microsoft Word. Too many spaces after a period WILL result in an error.</li><li>• Always check in Canvas after publishing to make sure the test is actually in the course.</li></ul>
