Pursuant to Federal Regulations, financial aid recipients must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) to remain eligible for federal aid. The Office of Student Financial Services has established comprehensive guidelines to measure whether a student is progressing satisfactorily towards completion of his/her program of study. SAP is measured annually both quantitatively (time-based) and qualitatively (grade based) at the end of each spring term once all grades have been posted to determine a financial aid recipient's continued eligibility for aid. When determining SAP, all previous academic history (including classes taken at this institution and received as transfer credit) is incorporated in the calculation even if a student did not receive financial aid for those terms. While financial aid eligibility is determined by the Office of Student Financial Services, maintaining Satisfactory Academic Progress is the responsibility of the student.

Students not meeting SAP standards will be ineligible for financial aid whether or not written notice is received from the Office of Student Financial Services. Students failing to meet SAP standards may appeal the suspension of financial aid by completing this form and providing documentation to support an appeal. Supporting documents may include a letter from the student's Academic Advisor/Dean, bills or other documents demonstrating a student's hardship. The lack of supporting documentation may result in an appeal denial.
